We offer a variety of treatment formats, such as one-to-one direct instruction, consultation to parents, paraprofessionals and educators; as well as individual and group workshops. This may take place at our Irvine Center, in-home, in schools or communities, or in organizational settings.

Our practice emphasizes positive programming and teaching functional skills across life areas. To assure the highest quality of care, we provide frequent staff training and aim to ensure that each program is tailored to the needs of the client, family and community.
